

Access the Entire 254 ASCII Character Set
WordPerfect Magazine
Bonus Macros

The included ASCII.WPM macro gives you easy access to all of the 254 ASCII characters (such as: ☺ ♥ ♦ ♪ ¶ §) that do not have a key assignment on your standard keyboard.

If you are unfamiliar with ASCII characters, you may refer to Appendix A: ASCII Conversion Chart of the WordPerfect Reference manual. A complete list of ASCII characters is listed in Appendix A with a description of how to access them.

With so many different ASCII characters to choose from, it's often hard to remember which number corresponds to which character. Looking the characters up in the Reference manual can also take unnecessary time. This macro lets you bring up a display of all the characters that are not available on your standard keyboard and then select whichever character you wish to use.

Note: You will notice that characters 32 through 126 have been omitted. These 95 characters are the characters found on your standard keyboard.

To use the macro, position your cursor where you want to insert the ASCII character, press Macro (Alt-F10), type ASCII and press (Enter). The menu shown in the figure below will be displayed on your screen. Type the number for the corresponding ASCII character and press (Enter). The character will appear at your cursor position, and the menu will disappear.
