

Save Subdocuments to Disk
WordPerfect Magazine
By Jordan V. Hodgson

Sometimes it's necessary to save selected subdocuments outside the master document. An easy way to do this is to block the subdocument, then save and name it with Save (F10).

The included SUBOUT.WPM macro performs this task, then pauses while you enter the subdocument filename. It can be run from anywhere in a subdocument that needs saving.