

Templates to Display the Function Keys
WPUniverse.com
By Chris Scott

New! Improved! XT and Enhanced function key templates that run command!

- FKEYS.WPM is a macro form of the keyboard template in WP 6.2, for function keys at top. (WP 6.2 does not have a native template for XT / function keys on left.)
- FKEYSX.WPM is a macro form of the WP 5.1 XT template, without coloring. I added F11 and F12 since I redefined Scroll Lock=F11 and Sys Req via utility KeyTweak.

The macros display the template and run whatever key or combo is pressed, not just the function keys.

Edit the template for where your Help key is assigned. You can edit to clarify stuff like Cancel and Undelete. Put in reminders like Home-Exit for Exit All.

Note: If you edit the template and use it to save itself, it won't work.

Making the template with WP 5.1 coloring in all screen modes and mousified may be possible using different a menu display technique.

Since pressing Help twice yields WP 6.2's template, you could redefine Help in the keyboard file (wpk) so that a quick double-strike runs FKEYS and a slow strike yields the Help template. I access the templates via a menu.

The enhanced and XT templates combo sequence is different, as seen in WP 5.1's help templates. I find it bothersome.

XT	Enhanced
Ctrl	Ctrl
Shift	Alt
Alt	Shift
Alone	Alone